Quite a crowd of football enthusiasts will journey to Tuxedo Park to-morrow afternoon to see the Frinceton College eleven meet the Grange Athletic Glub team.

No far this Fall Princeton has not made the kiml of showing calculated to inspire confidence in her ability to retain the champiouship.

In the recent game with Rutgers Princeton scored lightly, considering the inexperience and lack of weight of the Rutgers team. Bearing this fact in mind, the Orange Athletic Club team will be surprised if it does not score against the collegians to-morrow. Miss Rosina Vokes has presented her threeact comedy "The Silver Shield," by Sydney Grundy, and it is reported to have met with much success. The main story deals with an actress, who is the victim of a mistake that separates her from her husband as in real life, of course. She unconsciously separates another married couple.

That is the main threat of the serry. The other thread tolls of the marriage of a young couple against the father's will, the turning of the newly wedded pair out of the house, and a reconciliation effected by the actress. This doesn't sound thrilling, but it probably will, when heard mon the stage. Miss Vokes has a serious scene, a luxury in which she does not often indulge.

Edgar Selden starts forth again in his Irish play, entitled "Will o' the Wisp," in which he has done some very good work. Miss Mariou Leater, otherwise known as Mrs. Marcus Moriarty, has been engaged for the company.

The reorganized "Hendrik Hudson" commany, minus the elusive Fay Templeton, is rehearsing at the Grand Opera-House in the stater where Miss Margaret Mather and much success. The main story deals with
